

In a survey of 50 people, 19 said they wanted to get books as Christmas gifts, 20 said they wanted games as gifts, and 19 said they wanted jewelry. Four people wanted books and games; 7 people wanted games and jewelry. Three people wanted all three items as gifts, and 8 people wanted none of these things. How many people wanted books and jewelry but not games?